

WEEKLY ARIZONA MINER: PRESCOTT, MARCH 8, 1873.

The Miner.

Another Man Shot.

Another sad and bloody affair occurred here on the night of Monday last, the particulars of which we have gleaned from a conversation with Mr. Wm. Jennings, nightwatchman, and which are almost as follows: About 11 o'clock, Mr. Jennings, while on the plaza, heard the report of a shot, and running down to the Chinese quarter of town, from whence the sound came, he found some soldiers in front of a Chinese house of ill-fame, in the alley, back of the old brewery, who in answer to his question, informed him that the shot was fired from a house on Granite street. Going down on Granite street, he met some Chinese men who informed him that the shot was fired out of the house previously alluded to. He returned there and found the soldiers he had previously seen in the act of smashing in the windows of the house. He requested them to desist. They refused to do so, and he beat one of them with his pistol. Soon thereafter, upon going to the south side of the house, he found a soldier lying down, and moaning heavily. Lighting a match, he discovered blood flowing from a wound in the back of the head. He immediately secured help, carried the man into the house, washed his wound and had him conveyed in a wagon to the hospital at Whipple, where he now lies in a very critical condition, from which it is almost impossible for him to recover. His name is said to be "Noff," and those who know him say that he has a good, quiet record. But, he was, it appears, in bad company—in a bad place. The Chinaman who shot him has been employed as cook at Fort Whipple. He is now in jail. Some of the soldiers of the post have, it is said, been much incensed at the Chinaman.

Gen. M. P. Small has placed ourselves and readers under obligations to him for the abstract of bids which we publish elsewhere. It will be seen that the contest for contracts was sharp and close, and that owing to the rivalry the prices to be paid for either low. New Mexico men, beat ours on the Verde, Apache and Graham, which is to be regretted.

A short time ago Gen. Dana, Chief Quartermaster of the Department received bids for furnishing apples, but for some good and sufficient reasons, he has not yet opened the bids. Saturday, March 29, will be a "field-day" here with business men; as upon that day proposals for furnishing hay, grain, wood, and land transportation will be opened. It is in consequence we wish to remind all citizens who contemplate "proposing," that the Government is able and willing to pay fair prices for everything, and that the toilers of the Territory expect and deserve their equivalent for the labor of their hands and the products of their farms.

A correspondent at Camp McDowell thinks that the MINER ought to agitate the completion of the Black Canyon and Agua Fria wagon road to Camp McDowell and Salt River. But, we have almost grown tired of doing so, and think that, at present, it were better to open a direct route from Prescott to these places, via the Miller cut-off, Skull and Peeples valleys.

A little more money will enable Mr. Gunning to make a No. 1 road between Wickenburg and Whipple, and we are told that a few thousand dollars would open a new and short road from that place to this. Now, if a company will not build a toll road, the counties of Yavapai and Maricopa are amply able to do the work, and a number of this kind would scarcely be a disadvantage to any taxpayer. We have, as a people, paid too little attention to the improving of our highways, and the result is that high freights are every day impoverishing us, and are not even helped by the freights, upon whose backs our rough mountain roads keep up a continual dray.

Mrs. Crook, wife of the general, and Col. Nelson and wife, have returned home from their visit to Tucson and other points in Southern Arizona.

Saturday last, L. Wortman purchased Burnt Ranch, at administrator's sale, for $500, and, a few days thereafter, he sold the same to Messrs. Blair & Hutchinson, of this place, for the sum of $1,200. The ranch is small, but good. The personal property brought good prices.

Two freight teams, which started from Ehrenberg February 10, succeeded in reaching this place Monday last. They brought fresh drugs and medicines for Dr. Kendall's drug store, various articles for the store of Campbell & Buffum and printing material for the office. Among the good things received by Campbell & Buffum we noticed several barrels of hickory nuts.

Messrs. A. O. Noyes, J. P. Hargrave and J. H. Behan, members of the late legislature, arrived home in the afternoon of Friday last. With them came Messrs. Peeples and Sexton, from Wickenburg; W. B. Hillings, L. B. St. James and Jas. Dalley, from Phoenix, and Jos. Collingwood, of Florence.

Messrs. Jackson & Tompkins have recently spent a great deal of money, improving their bar and billiard saloon, which is now well lighted, and splendidly furnished.

Messrs. E. N. Fish and D. A. Bennett arrived here Tuesday last, from Tucson, having made the trip from that place to this in about 6 1/2 days. They talk of starting back this morning.

Fresh Garden and Flower Seeds.
Wm. N. Kelly has yet on hand several packages of seeds, which he will sell cheap. His place is on Montezuma street, a little north of Campbell & Buffum's brick store.

Readers of the MINER here and elsewhere will do well to attend the coming sale of property belonging to Mr. R. Meacham, which is to commence at this place on Saturday, March 15, 1873. See his advertisement.

Dr. Williams, agent for the Indians at Camp Date Creek, Mr. Huges and Frank Murray are here on a visit. Mr. Huges is an old "yprin," and, of course, a clever gent. Mr. Murray's friends here were pleased at seeing him.

New Advertisements.
Mr. A. E. Davis has opened a law and collection office at Cerbat.

Dr. Peter Thomas, of this place, advertises his readiness and ability to cure rheumatism, etc.

Doctor Gibbon of San Francisco tells the afflicted what he can do for them.

Members of the Mechanics' Mess, Fort Whipple, have something to say in a card.

Johny Brannan, driver of Mr. J. A. Grant's mail wagons between this place and Camp Date Creek, has been making excellent time, despite the bad condition of the roads.

On last trip, A. O. Grant, stage agent here, and three other passengers came to Prescott.

Messrs. Wm. Cory, A. E. Davis and M. D. Wheeler, started for their homes in Mohave county Tuesday last. Major Wheeler is a brother of Lieutenant Wheeler, the great explorer. We were sorry to see the gentlemen leave us so soon after their arrival. They were, too, but business, you know.

Mr. D. P. Foster has again taken a position in the store of Mr. L. Bashford.

For some time past Postmaster Allen has been unable to register letters, owing to a want of the proper and necessary blanks and envelopes, for which he has often written to Washington, but which have not yet been received, they having, it is thought, been "hooked" by some other P. M. Where is Postal Agent Dawley?

Mr. C. W. Beach came up in time to put in a bid for supplying Government with mules.

Our mountain streams should be stocked with speckled trout.

Never was a country better supplied with good building material than is Arizona.

J. H. Behan talks of starting and running a new saw mill.

With a smile on his honest countenance did "Jeff" Davis, of Haavayampa Creek, inform us, one day this week, that there were on the mountains near his ranch, nearly 6 feet of snow, and that the water was "just a boiling" down Turkey and Haavayampa Creek. Oh, how good and how kind of Providence!

Since pay day (Monday last), several soldiers (recruits) have attempted to take French leave. One, only, got away. He stole some property.

A Tucson correspondent of the MINER gets off some "last word" or "death-bed" jokes on some of the members of the late legislature. Although it is now in order for us to have a last say upon men and matters connected with the recent assembly, we await a time when more space will be at our disposal.

The Walnut Grove mining company claim $202,800 damages from Government, for losses by Indians, in this county, Territory, between August 1, 1865, and July 9, 1869.

GENERAL CROOK.
What the Late Legislature of this Territory "Resolved" Concerning this Long-Headed Indian Civilizer and his Gallant Troops.

Having been the first person to request the legislature to express the thanks of the people of Arizona for the blessings brought them by General Crook, his officers and men, we take great pleasure in publishing the following action of both houses upon this subject:

Be it resolved by the house, the council concurring, that whereas for a long series of years, the Apaches have devastated the fairest portion of our Territory and have murdered numbers of our best and most energetic citizens, and in consequence thereof, the energies of our people have been paralyzed and the manifold resources of our Territory have remained undeveloped; and whereas, under the system inaugurated by General Crook and in consequence of the vigorous measures adopted by him, we now for the first time enjoy our organization as a Territorial government, enjoy comparative immunity from the attacks of our savage foes, therefore be it—

Resolved, That we cordially endorse and approve the course of General Crook towards the Apaches; that we believe him to be eminently qualified to command the Department of Arizona during the existence of this savage warfare, and that if not again defeated, he will bring our Indian war to an early and successful termination and secure a lasting peace with the Apaches.

Resolved, That the thanks of the people of Arizona are due, and hereby tendered to General George Crook, commanding the Department of Arizona, and to the officers and soldiers under his command, for the gallant and efficient manner in which the war against the Apaches is now being prosecuted.

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Territory of Arizona be instructed to forward a copy of these resolutions to General Crook, commanding the Department of Arizona, to the commander of the Military Division of the Pacific, to the Secretary of War, and to Hon. R. C. McCormick, our delegate in Congress.

Approved February 14, 1873.

The San Diego Union congratulates the people of this Territory "upon the tolerable certainty that they are soon to be in communication with the 'outside world.'" It is, of course, does this in the belief that the National Government is going to build that military line right away.

INDICTMENT OF MODOCS.—Jacksonville, Oregon, February 10.—To-day, the grand jury of Jackson county indicted Isaac Charles, Hocker Jim, Long Jim, One-Eyed Mose, Old Doctor Humphrey, Little Jim, Boston Charlie, and Dave, belonging to Captain Jack's band of Modoc Indians, for murder in the first degree. Mrs. Brotherton and son, survivors of the Brotherton family, were positively to these Indians as the band who massacred the settlers on Lost River in December last. It is not yet understood what steps will be taken by the sheriff to make the arrest, but it is probable that action will be deferred until after the meeting of the Peace Commission.

Wonder what the San Francisco Chronicle will have to offer in the way of whitewash for the vicious deeds with the ugly names?

The Los Angeles Express of Feb. 27, says: A light wagon, drawn by a four mule team, has been started for Wallapai, from the commission house of J. L. Ward & Co., carrying several passengers.

Two men suspected of the crime of having murdered the late B. F. Griffin, are, according to our Phoenix correspondent, in custody in Maricopa county.
